

RMB Mendon Financial Services Fund

(as of March 31, 2021)

Investment Philosophy & Approach

The Fund seeks capital appreciation. The Fund pursues its goal by investing at least 80% of its net assets (including borrowing, if any) in the common stocks of U.S. companies in the financial services sector. The Fund may invest in companies of any size, but, under normal conditions, the Fund invests primarily in small capitalization stocks.

Seek companies that appear to have the following characteristics:

- Strong management, sound financial practices, and a defensible business niche
- Focus on firms with sustainable growth in earnings, revenue, and cash flow
- Identify undervalued equities that are temporarily distressed and have merger and acquisition potential

The performance data quoted represents past performance and is not a guarantee of future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate, so that those shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. All returns reflect reinvested dividends, but do not reflect the deduction of taxes that an investor would pay on distributions or redemptions. Current performance may be lower or higher than the data quoted due to market volatility. Returns longer than one year are annualized. All data as of 3/31/2021 unless otherwise noted. Annual Performance vs. Index

Investment Terms: Annualized Rate of Return is the geometric mean return of the portfolio calculated for a one-year period. Standard Deviation measures volatility risk, or how closely returns track their long-term average. Active Share is a measure of the percentage of stock holdings in a manager's portfolio that differs from the benchmark index. Turnover Ratio or Turnover Rate is the percentage of a mutual fund or other portfolio's holdings that have been replaced in a 12-month period. Weighted Average Market Capitalization refers to a type of stock market index construction that is based on the market capitalization of the index's constituent stocks; large companies would, therefore, account for a greater portion of an index than smaller stocks.

All investing involves risk including the possible loss of principal. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. The RMB Mendon Financial Services Fund is a sector fund. These types of funds may be susceptible to factors affecting their industries, and the fund's net asset values may fluctuate more than a fund that invests in a wider range of industries. Because this fund concentrates its investments in one sector of the economy (financial services), investors should consider the risk that the fund may experience greater volatility than funds that invest across several sectors.

The NASDAQ Bank Index includes securities of NASDAQ-listed companies classified according to the Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB) as Banks. The index includes dividends reinvested. One cannot invest in an index.

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing.
